Makena Brandon

PRESS KIT · NANYUKI, KENYA

Biography

Makena Brandon is an independent young Kenyan author, poet and essayist from Nanyuki whose writing centres on spirituality, philosophy, identity, human meaning and the African experience.

Publishing

He is the founder of Discussion Publishers PLC and the Discussion Newspaper Publishers Network. His serialized poetry and essays explore family, dignity, poverty, faith and the inner conflicts that shape modern African readers.

Books

The Law of Human Meaning; Lost Soil; Autism: Understanding & Transforming; Politics and Prophecy; The Resilient Scholar; The Future.

Poetry & essays

The Blood Between Us (nine episodes); Dirty Game Is the Way, the Truth and the Life; Church Thoughts; and dispatches including Save the Beauty, Juliana, the Queen of the Bees, and Mama Jael Mbogo.

Media contact

contact@makenabrandon.info
https://makenabrandon.info